

Newsfeature

Want to learn about clear aligners?

Dentistry speaks with attendee of the Nuvola course, Cesare Luzi, about The Nuvola System

Dentistry magazine (DM): Please describe what the Nuvola course teaches?

Cesare Luzi (CL): The Nuvola certifying course is a starting course for dentists who want to become familiar with the Nuvola System. The Nuvola System is an Italian brand of clear aligners, designed and produced for the treatment of dental malocclusions.

The course has the objective of describing indications for clear aligner treatment, hardware characteristics, procedures and management of the cases. Successful completion of the course allows to be certified for the system and to start using it on patients.

DM: What skills did you have after completing the course?

CL: Following the course every doctor is able to understand the potential and the indications of clear aligner treatment. The participant brings home the knowledge of how to use the Nuvola System in all its aspects, from impression taking or intraoral scanning to aligner delivery, attachment positioning and everything else related to successful use of the system itself.

DM: How has the course helped in your day-to-day treatment?

CL: The course allows you, through a series of case presentations, to fully understand the list of indications and helps to understand case selection.

This way I was able, following first visitation of the patient, to decide if the patient would benefit from a Nuvola treatment and if the system itself would be able, through a reasonable number of aligners, to resolve the malocclusion according to the clinician's indications.

DM: Describe Nuvolaweb and how it works?

CL: Nuvolaweb is a rational and very functional web platform for the interaction between the clinician and Geo lab, the producer of the Nuvola System. Once impressions have been shipped (or the virtual model from the intra-oral scan have been mailed) to the lab, Geo will elaborate a 3D treatment proposal for treatment.

The clinician can log in on his private page and visualise this proposal and interact directly with the lab for eventual changes or any request. It is an easy-to-use platform that keeps Nuvola providers continuously in touch with Geo for the best possible patient care.

DM: What was your overall experience of the course and product?

CL: I was fascinated from my first course and would recommend both the course and starting using the product.

The innovations behind the product itself are continuous and slowly indications are increasing. Not all malocclusions can be treated with this system, but patients with high aesthetic demands can meet the product they desire when treated by a certified Nuvola clinician.

DM: Why would you recommend the course and product to UK dentists?

CL: Definitely! Although the product and course will not make a dentist become an orthodontist, it will provide a tool to the dental practice which today is of utmost importance, easy to use and determinant of great satisfactions. D

Dr Cesare Luzi gained a dental degree at the University of Rome "La Sapienza". He has a master in Science in Orthodontics at the University of Aarhus, Denmark. Dr Luzi is founder and first president of the European Postgraduate Students Orthodontic Society (EPSOS).

The participant brings home the knowledge of how to use the Nuvola System in all aspects

TO BOOK A place on the next Nuvola course, call 01825 714 601 or email info@geoorthodontic.com.

www.geoorthodontic.com